What could you do at Home: You might like to gather together everyone in your household on the evening of Holy Saturday to read all or some of the readings:

Genesis 1:1-2:2 (Shorter 1:1, 26-31a), Genesis 22:1-18, Exodus 14:15-15:1, Isaiah 54:5-14, Isaiah 55:1-11 Baruch 3:9-15,32-4:4, Ezekiel 36:16-28, Romans 6:3-11 and Matthew 28:1-10.

If you are only going to read one then it should be the Gospel Matthew 28:1-10. If you can read one or two others the liturgy says Exodus 14:15-15:1 should always be read and then of your choice.

If you have multiple candles in your home, everyone could light their own candle from the main one to imitate lighting candles from the Paschal Candle at the Easter Vigil. Later, ring a bell if you have one. Listen to the Exsultet online.

Other things to watch/do:

There's a treasure-store of Easter activities for families, via the Messy Church and related sites online – see them here and here. Also St George's Tuffley messy material here (look out for Messy Easter, available from Saturday).

General Note on Masses

There are many other masses on churchservices.tv and indeed on YouTube. EWTN covers the Papal Masses as well as the YouTube Vatican Media site given. The masses of the Pope Walsingham and the Cathedral are uploaded as recordings shortly after they are completed and can be played at other times. There are no recordings of Masses or Services from our Parishes.
